Constantly working with programming languages and any suitable software (commonly Adobe) on different platforms, I'm very strong in field of building online presentations (web pages) and interactive applications design, covering also cross-communication in this area. I'm able to manage (or build simple) program-driven interactive application or animation for user-input (server-side) interpretation, using my management specialization of previous bachelor's study and work experiences in online applications and design for a plenty of media outputs. I'm strong with almost every graphic software and many of JavaScript-based programming languages, I have long-time experience in building dynamic and database driven web pages (using JavaScript, Actionscript, PHP and MySQL).
